Managing Medical Waste with Leak-Proof Liners

Healthcare facilities prioritize hygiene, odor control, and biohazard safety when disposing of medical waste. Noramco's durable, leak-proof trash can liners reduce exposure to potentially harmful waste, making Noramco an ideal partner for waste-management solutions.

Hygiene & Safety

- Noramco's leak-proof, durable liners reduce exposure to harmful waste, ensuring a safer environment.

High-Strength Materials

- LLDPE (hexene-based) liners for superior strength and leak resistance, ideal for liquids and infectious waste
- Higher-gauge LLDPE liners for securing medical sharps (needles, syringes, lancets)
- HDPE liners for blunt medical waste

Odor & Bacteria Control

- Liners contain odor-neutralizing agents to trap biohazardous smells.
- Optional anti-microbial treatments inhibit bacterial growth.

Cross-Contamination Prevention

- Heavy-duty materials act as a barrier, reducing contamination risk.
- High-capacity liners allow quick disposal, minimizing waste handling.

Efficiency & Convenience

- Multi-use liners fit various containers, eliminating the need for sorting waste and trash.
- Star-seal bottoms provide leak-proof protection and even weight distribution.
